By B. F. Mintz

"What's the tale that you will tell?"

This was the challenging question which Rev. W. H. Weiblen, assistant pastor of St. Paul's, addressed more than 200 banqueters at the annual Junior-Senior affair last night in St. Paul's parish hall. Mr. Weiblen's address was delivered to the largest J-S banquet crowd in Wartburg history.

Opening his speech on the theme of the banquet, 'One Hundred and Eight Knights,' Mr. Weiblen a former air force chaplain, compared past incidents of Wartburg with present organizations. He showed that the 1951 Knights, the senior class, have a tradition of service and that the country is not to be "bored by" easily.

Feeling that the moral foundations of our society have dropped he declared, "All people should serve their chapter like they serve their lives—they must not supersize themselves from their faith.

"A Christian life gives us true knowledge and wisdom," he continued, "while a sensual, pleasure-seeking life can offer us nothing."

Mr. Weiblen illustrated his talk with stories and with examples from his own experiences with the armed forces and the ministry as easy-to-listen to voice, although his during was sometimes halting and unsure.

Theme Speak

As final speaker on the banquet program, Dr. Ralph Heintzelman presided by Gerry Hattig, senior class president, introduced the theme speaker stressing the knighthood and master of ceremonies and Dr. Heintzelman spoke on the theme's spotlight.

Before on the program was the junior class skit, 'Arabian High School,' which satirized the recently released the movie "High School" which was based on the book 'Arabian Nights' atmosphere which permeated the entire affair's proceedings.

Following the outstanding aspect of the banquet was the novel and entertaining program of attractions, also in the Arabian mood. The program was presented and directed through to the minutest detail, as the entire banquet, by students with well and checkroom attendants.

Bringing Symphonic Style To Wartburg, New Orchestra Lends Classical Touch

By Jim Saxter

Symphonic music—the music of masters—the soaring of a violin, the tumble of the cornithase. The zest of the trumpet and the full rich tone of the cello all combine to provide listening pleasure that has thrilled audiences for years.

Those who enjoyed the Boston Pops and the Minneapolis Symphony will need no longer be entirely dependent on the Artist Series to bring them this particular brand of music for there is now a new and interested addition to the campus and community scene—the Wartburg Symphonette.

Next Sunday evening at 8 in the Knights gym a stirring array of symphonic music will be assembled, seated in orchestral form. The house lights will dim and the symphonette bathe in hand, will step to the podium. The downbeat and the first symphonic number of the series will come in fitte for an expectant audience.

Those musicians who have undertaken this winter received a preview of the group, then a small orchestra, and were pleased with what they heard. The enthusiasm they displayed in the value and the enjoyment it offered. Due to the enthusiastic response of citizens of Waverly and area surrounding communities plus that of Wartburg musicians, the orchestra has grown to a membership of 50, will able to handle the light symphonic selections that are to be featured Sunday.

Ernest Hagen, of the music department here, organized the group and will conduct it. Hagen emphasizes capable of handling the challenge of symphonic music. Of the group, 15 have participated in the State University of Iowa symphony, three in the Drake-Des Moines symphony, two in the Northwestern university symphony and 11 in the Waterloo concert orchestra.

The threefold purpose of the group, as stated by Hagen, is "to aid in the cultural growth of the college and community, to provide relaxation and entertainment for business and professional people and to provide a training organization for student musicians.

"We feel that we're accomplishing these aims in a small degree now," he said. "The group of the progress we've made and I'm very enthusiastic about the future."

Besides the 16 students in the orchestra, members of Wartburg faculty and from professions added to the ranks are two physicians, a number of high school students and numerous others, city residents. Contributing to community music life in this manner are Dr. Ralph Heintzelman, violin; Lee Hilder Thut, bassoon; Dr. Ralph Duffy, bass; Miss Hilder an instrument by the Rev. Rose Dahlke, flute; Dr. Ralph Lee, flute and now played by Russell W. Sohr of Charles City. Dr. E. E. Sullivan, Cedar Falls, M.D., owns two of the original Gadilano violin, probably the finest instruments in the orchestra.

New honors wins accorded the group recently when it was admitted to membership in the American Symphony league. The purpose of the organization, according to Hagen, is to foster continual cultural growth in the nation through the wide development of fine community orchestras.

Those attending next Sunday's concert will realize that the Wartburg Community orchestra is accomplishing those ends.

Editor Writes Letter

OPEN LETTER TO EXPECTANT GRADUATES:

Dear expectant graduates:

The time is drawing near for you to delve deep into stock of standing clichés and prepare to kiss off college life for good. It is to this end that the TRUMPET is taking an opportunity to bid you a fond adieu before tests and alumni arrive and we forget about you except for money.

You seniors, although you're not Old Maims, have actually become permanent fixtures around this place as you know. People looked at you last fall and wondered whether this was your sixth or seventh year at Wartburg. You've all acquired some measure of public standing—in the form of either fame or notoriety.

And now you're leaving—leaving us, the underclassmen, your devoted public, before we completely attempting to climb to the heights you've already attained. On June 8 the fatal moment will strike you. The alumni association will pledge you in. Then the next . . . uh, the next day . . .

The stately strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" reach your tassel-tossed ears—for you're still far from the goal. The line moves painfully slow, and the sun is hot on the portable bridge table that's perched on the front of the speaker's stand—extra good, but you're not really interested in him. You want exercise. You want to stretch your legs. You want to walk right by that guy who's been giving you unutterable shiversation, to non-sports fans) and take off in the direction of the duck pond.

Then the moment comes—up the stage, down the stage, flip the tassel—it's as easy as push-pull, click-click. But the actions are significant for you're a college graduate.

Yes, you'll be leaving us. But as the thought strikes you, we hope that (as they say) a lump rises in your throat, a lone tear forms a trickle on your cheek and your eyes cloud with nostalgic memories. But wait! There's still hope—Wartburg and you are not to be complete strangers. For now you are the constituency.

You might not think it of yourself now, but in a few years your old friends at school are going to look at you with the eyes of a '49-er viewing a 10-pound nugget. And since you are constituency, your wallet WILL be stuffed.

So remember, the next dorm is yours, graduates-to-be . . .

Oh, well. Congratulations, anyway.

Regretfully yours,
The editor (pro tem)

Footnotes To Faith:

Prayer Is Difficult—But We Must Use It!

By Norm Melchert

Melchert

Theologians are fond of saying, "Prayer is not a product of man's imagination. Take it from those who know you can't live without prayer." Him. He is as real as you are. And He listens to us when we talk to Him.

This statement is, of course, ridiculous! Millions of people do.

There are those, however, who cannot, that stagnation—that prayer, if you will—makes life easier. Also silly. It is much easier for God not to bother about us at all.

Yet here is an amazing paradox. It is hard to fit prayer into our busy lives, but harder to live without prayer. Though it often is hard to find time or hard to get up in the morning, it is easier.

Because God is integral to absolutely everything, it doesn't even make sense to try to live ignoring Him. Because God is answering. He makes the best friend to ask for help and advice.

As students we have two great needs: assistance in living now and guidance for our future lives. God willingly gives both—if we ask Him.

We have a privilege in prayer; let us use it.

Let us pray with Peter Marshall, "Forgive me for thinking that prayer is a waste of time, and help us to see that without prayer our time work is a waste of time."

3 IIAC Confabs Here Today–Track, Golf, Tennis

Dubuque Top Cinder Choice As 10 Schools Send Squads

By Ricky Kolberg

With Wartburg playing host for the first time in history, 10 Iowa conference teams including about 100 spikemen are competing on the football track today in the IIAC finals. Field event action starts at 1:30 p.m., while the first gun for the running events will sound at 2.

Heavy favorites to walk away with the loop title for the third consecutive year will be the perennial cinder powerhouse, Dubuque university. The Spartans have a veteran array of speedsters in Sarah Livingstone, Roy Zieglet, Bob Holmes and Ron Fredrich. Tom Beeler is a top threat to the Dubuque title in the shot, discus and javelin. In addition to these stars, Dubuque has the reserve depth to fight off the northern division champs, Luther.

Dubuque has 23 qualifiers, being without a starter in only the high hurdles. Given only a few outside chances to place, Dubuque has 23 qualifiers but not the individual flash of the Spartan vets. Luther qualified in every event except the low hurdles.

Simpson is conceded third place honors with 17 qualifiers while Loras and Wartburg with 10 and nine representatives will duel for fourth place.

Other competing schools—St. Ambrose, Central, Parsons, Iowa Wesleyan and Buena Vista—are figured to jog far behind in the point scoring.

Under suitable weather conditions, several records will possibly succumb today. Last year, Jack Mary Mess of Luther cracked the 6'4" conference high jump mark, stretching it to 6'1⅛".

Other marks ambushed in the 1952 meet were Bob Melchert of Dubuque and Parsons of Simpson have neared the record 120' 5½in. toss of Melchert, when Dale Schmitz of Luther and Bernie French will duel in an effort to erase Schinks 1932 9:39.2 record. Also the 880 and 880 relay records established in 1951 are primed for a crack in some dazzling performances.

A clash between Dubuque and Loras will possibly feature the mile-relay event. The blazing Spartan foursome has covered the distance in 3:26 this season, while the Duhawks have 3:27.4. Buena Vista clocking 16 years ago.

We'll be lucky if we guess in a few events" is Coach and Meet Director Ax Bundgaard's concise description of Wartburg's point prospects.

Wartburg qualifiers and their events are Rudy Grube, 100 and 220; Wilbur Schmeling, 440; Bob Baldwin, 880; Jerry Miller, 880; Dick Schemmel, 220 low hurdles; Bob Adix, high jump; John Reimers, javelin; Ken Wessel, pole vault, and the mile relay team.

Helmuth Gilow qualified last Saturday in the two-mile run. However, he crossed a bone in his foot on the last lap of the long stint and will be forced to be relegated to the role of a spectator on crutches today.

Knight timbermen edged Luther 6-5, at Decorah Tuesday, after splitting with western rival Ripon with Wartburg and Buena Vista on the Wartburg diamond last week. The Oregonians defeated Bachelor, 17-6, then fell to the Beavers, 6-5, under the Mahan.

After retiring to eight field in the sixth, with two on, Ron Lee came to outside at Luther. John Kurtt showed his reliever Lee's Wartburg in the ninth, to notch his fourth victory of the season.

After lacerating Westmar in a wild three-run Saturday afternoon, Wartburg notched its fourth loss slip by, 4-3 on a single run in the bottom of the ninth involving three errors. Westmar drove out 11 batters as his mates failed him in the field.

Five Enter Teester Teams; Racquet Outfits Number 8

Iowa loop net and tee squads go into action this afternoon on local courts on the Waverly campus to decide conference kings in golf and tennis. Five schools are represented in the eight-and-pellet sport, while eight will take part in the racquet bout.

Wartburg and Loras will be the only schools out for the golf laurels with a quintet each, and St. Ambrose completing the entry list. Four men will represent each school and team champ is to be decided by lowest total score. Medals will go to the three low scorers.

BV Enters 2

Seven of the eight spheric entries find only one ex-Duhawk among the lot, Bob Hoffman, who helps form the cookie-cutting Western Dubuque six. Andrew Lorch, Central, Luther and Wartburg will hold forth individually, while Viets claims two single aspirants.

I-M Track Meet Set

Intramural activity for the year will end Tuesday with running of the annual I-M track fourney on the Kinnick field at 4 p.m. Each of the eight teams will be competing in the 15 events, with the Knights defending champs in the off-campus attempting to repeat as under kings.

Knights Dennis Peterson (left foreground) and Al Bahrman will both be running in the loop meet this afternoon, but not in the same race.

Oppiemen Shaft Upper Iowa, 4-3, With 2 Hits; Tackle ISTC, Sumner Ind., Winona Next Week

By Fred Gunnerman

Although four contests remain on their slate, Knight dunnenders closed their 1953 conference season with a 4-3 victory over Upper Iowa at Fayette last Saturday, 4-3 on the local base paths. Wartburg collected only two hits to the victory list.

Next week the stickmen will meet Iowa State Teachers here Tuesday, meet Sumner on the same day to greet the Sumner collegiate contenders in the American Baseball congress last season, and journey to Winona Minn. Friday to play Winona Teachers.

Manky Leon Wettrand was credited with his third win of the season yesterday when he relieved starter Kurtt in the sixth. Kurtt pitched soundly as he stranded 10 Peacocks on the paths yielding seven hits and two solid runs in the first five frames.

Upper Iowa deserted 14 runs on the socks, collecting nine singles, two doubles and a triple. Wartburg pushed across four tallies, all in the home stretch as Kurtt and Wettrand fanned three apiece.

Trailing 4-0 in the sixth, the Knights gathered 3-1 lead after Kurtt walloped a two-run double with a solid field. Upper Iowa knotted the count in the seventh as the same pair fell apart in the ninth as pinch-hitter Chuck Schumann led off with a walk and later came home on a throwing error after Kurtt had hit into a twin-killing.

WORKING UP FROM CUB

Lutz At End Of Trail

AS '52-'53 TRUMPET BOSS

By Rudy Kolbero

In the library? Nearly! In his room? Only from 5 to 11 a.m. In the den? Possibly. In the publications office? Most likely.

That's the usual routine of this year's blond, crew-cut TRUMPET editor. Charles Paul Lutz (customarily known as "Chuck," "Omar" or "More Pecile").

Some of all the TRUMPET co-workers from Gob Cracks to page make-up, Chuck has many fashion-able theories chores which go un-noticed to the average person who scans the weekly production. Consuming 30 hours a week at the typewriter, he is the busiest man on the TRUMPET staff. Improvement is his first headache.

Interviewed during an animated discussion around a Den table, Lutz was summoned to high authorities for "a few words of praise in the special sheet."

The great enjoyment I had was arguing over and defending re-views of movie concerts and play productions," said Lutz with a mischievous twinkle in his eyes.

Chuck lives for debate and argument, jumping at the opportunity to discuss any issue.

As Jerry Hayes, double-cross ex-pediter, sauntered up to the table, Lutz remarked, "Perhaps the most troublesome part of my work was trying to change some exhuberated efforts at humor. They seem to fall on love with every word they put on paper."

Never Like Heinecker

Never shuffled off muttering, "I like Heinecker, I like Heinecker. Who is this Lutz character, anyway?"

Concerning Ted Heinecker, his managing editor, Lutz remarked, "My biggest headache was keeping Heinecker away from the Little Theater and the dramatic produc-tions. He really is a genius. He could be called sadly by his type-pencil several times. Unhappily learning the ropes as a co-ed, I pur-ter his freshman year, assisting in sports write his sophomore year and acting as managing edi-tor last year.

Regrets Dropping Choir

"I only regret this year," Lutz signed, "was my work's problem-atic from participating in other activities, especially Wartburg Choir. It was something I was sorry to drop."

With journalistic ink running through his veins, Chuck is going to continue in the publications field having accepted a position as assistant editor of the magazine, youth publication of three Lutheran bodies. The magazine's headquarters are at Columbus, Ohio, where Lutz will also attend Capitol seminary.

Caught in a serious mood, Outgoing Editor Lutz is shown in his favorite pose—his stu-dent-faculty relations technique. Notice the firm resolution fidel-ocating from his countenance, the broad shoulders of his task and the high polish which he produces.

Lutz came through with a variety of biggest, hosts, greatest and worsts" in answer to queries re-garding the 1952-53 TRUMPET, only one more issue of which the senior from Fostanelle will edit.

Remembering last year's editor and his former roommate, Bob Greenquist, Lutz said (prudently, of course), "The change in editorship was the biggest improvement in the TRUMPET this year."

Lutz claimed that some of the most exciting experiences of the year were the times that he was

Three more two-year teachers have signed contracts for next year, according to Miss Marie Harms, college registrar. This raises the total number of stu-dents who have already secured teaching positions to 18.

Holmes Have Girl

Stopping at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Holmes, at the Clarksville parsonage, the stork presented Dr. Holmes with a 7 pounds, 10 ounce girl, Polly Adele, on May 7. The college chaplain's family now numbers three children—two girls and a boy.

Trumpet Stock Goes Up; Cub Staff Grabs Reins

In an effort to raise the calibre of the newspaper, the TRUMPET this week has been placed in the hands of a greenhorn crew, constituting next year's staff. The editors-in-cheeks are cluttered with a dif-ferent brand of cigarette butts and most of the senior writers have been kept in their cages.

In spite of popular demand, next week's paper will again fall into the clutches of the old regime, when Editor Lutz will attempt to rectify an en-tire year's work with his final issue.
